

Hi, I am Cora Czermak, I am 27 years old and working as a professional psychologist and as a dogtrainer.

With my four dogs I live in the countryside near Munich, in the very South of Germany. I started Dogdancing as a teenager, fifteen years ago by now, and I continued to do so ever since with various dogs of different breeds.

During the past years I competed as a member of the National German Freestyle Team at seven occasions with my Papillon „Steps“ – four World Championships and three OECs. We reached the finals twice (place 8 at the OEC 2017; place 10 at the WC 2019). Currently I am looking forward to compete with Steps and my young Border Collie „Pina“ (Freestyle & HTM) at the World Championship in France this coming April.

I am honored to judge the European Open Championship in Stuttgart. I have been a judge for six years by now, with assignments in Germany, Switzerland, Austria, Hungary and France so far, judging online-competitions in Russia and Japan in addition.

Good luck and all the best all competitors!
